Were you born to farm? The importance of agriculture as a basic need for humanity’s survival cannot be stressed more. Among others it sustains us, keeps us healthy and contributes to economic growth by creating jobs and exportable products.

At CPUT we offer:
- Agricultural Management
- Animal Production
- Crop Production
- Viticulture and Oenology

With this programme your future lies in the management of the agricultural industry. You will get actively involved in the day to day farming activities, including planning, care of, and harvesting of agricultural products.
