Foundation Phase Teaching

As a Foundation Phase teacher, you could teach learners from grades R to 3. You will equip our future presidents and innovators to acquire the values, knowledge, and skills necessary for their holistic development.

GRADE R TEACHING

The Grade R Diploma is a minimum requirement for becoming a qualified Grade R teacher. With this course, you will gain access to the Bachelor of Education (BE) with a maximum of 180 credits on condition of Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) with related modules completed during your Diploma course. This course has been designed relative to the BE Foundation Phase in order to accommodate credit transfer, which leaves you with more options once you've completed the course.
